

Agent Guide
OR-OSHA rules for reporting fatal vehicle
accidents to change January 1, 2007

Beginning January 1, 2007, new Oregon OSHA safety rules will require employers in Oregon to report fatal work-related motor vehicle accidents.

Beginning January 1, 2007, new Oregon OSHA safety rules will require employers in Oregon to report fatal work-related motor vehicle accidents. Employers must continue to report all fatal heart attacks that occur at work. For more information see the link below, or contact Oregon OSHA at 800.922.2689.

- Read the OR-OSHA press release.